TOPIC 10.2: Discussion of basic school curriculum and related materials

Day of visit Thursday

Date of visit 3rd April 2025

ACTIVITY 10.2.1

SRJ task: discussion of basic school curriculum and related materials:

List the curriculum material you discussed at college with your tutor.

Learning Indicators and Content Standards
Subject - Specific Curriculum Documents
Lessons Plans

Assesment Tools
Pupils Textbooks

Write down the curriculum materials you found in the STS school.

Timetable Templates
Graph
Math Sets for students
Pupils Textbooks
Assesment Tools

ACTIVITY 10.2.2 Identification of key features of the basic school curriculum

Record two key similarities and differences between your ideas and your STS partner's ideas about the relevance of standards, learning outcomes and their indicators in the Basic School Curriculum and how the indicators are assessed.

Similarities: We both agreed that learning outcomes and indicators help the teacher to plan lessons well.
2. We also believed that indicators help us to know whether learners are learning or not.

Differences - I think indicators should be used throughout the lesson, even during group work and class discussions. My STS partner thinks they are mostly for the end of the lesson or during tests.
2. My STS partner prefers written exercises to assess indicators. I also use peer activities, classroom observation, and oral questions to check understanding.

ACTIVITY 10.2.3

Record two key similarities in your ideas about the relationship between a scheme of work and a syllabus and those of your STS partner.

1. Both of us agreed that a syllabus provides the overall framework.

2. We both believed that a scheme of work breaks down the syllabus into manageable lessons.

TOPIC 10.3: Observation of classroom lesson presentation, management, and assessment

Day of visit Thursday

Date of visit 3rd April 2025

ACTIVITY 10.3.1

SRJ task: Lesson introduction

After the use of the checklist to observe lesson introduction, record any activity that the mentor engaged in, which is not in your checklist.

My mentor teacher asked two students to act out a short role-play about the topic before starting the lesson. This made the class excited and curious, but it was not part of the checklist used for observation.

Record any 'critical' incident you might have observed during the lesson introduction

During the role-play some students got too excited and started talking loudly which made the class noisy for a short time. The teacher had to pause and calm the class down before continuing the lesson.

ACTIVITY 10.3.2

SRJ task: Lesson development and classroom management

Record your answers to the following questions

- What management strategies did the teacher use?
- Why are classroom management important?
- How did the mentor arrange the seating in the classroom?
- How did the mentor encourage the vulnerable, especially the girls and those with disability to participate in the lesson?
- How did the mentor respond to pupils' answers and questions?

1. Class rules and expectations, use of time limits, Warnings.
2. It creates a safe and respectful environment, so everyone feels comfortable.
3. The desks were arranged in straight rows facing the front.
4. The mentor asked questions equally of boys and girls. This setup let the teacher see and address every student.
5. I saw my mentor respond positively to students answers and questions The teacher praised students for trying even when their answers weren't fully correct.

Record any 'critical' incident you might have observed during the lesson presentation.

During the lesson, ~~presentation~~ something important happened when a student said a rude word thinking the teacher wouldn't hear. Even though it was said quietly, ~~the teacher wouldn't hear~~ heard it

TOPIC 10.4: Observation of traits of teacher professionalism

Day of visit Thursday

Date of visit 19th June 2025

ACTIVITY 10.4.1

SRJ task: Observation of teachers' behaviour and attitude towards work

After the use of checklist to observe teacher behaviour and attitude towards work, record the list of professional traits you might have observed that are not found in your checklist.

1. Compassion
2. Emotional intelligence
3. Calmness under pressure
4. Supportiveness

Record the differences and similarities between you and your STS partner, new professional traits you have both listed.

Traits	Similarities	Differences
Care for students	We both saw teachers care about more than teaching	I saw help with home issues, my partner saw emotional support
Team Teamwork with teachers	Both saw teachers helping each other.	I saw sharing materials, my partner saw teacher support groups

ACTIVITY 10.4.2

SRJ task: Observation of teachers' relationship with learners, school authorities, other teachers and parents

After the use of the checklist to observe relationships among teachers and other stakeholders, record the kind of relationships you might have observed that are not found in your checklist.

During Observation, I saw my mentor was very friendly and easy to talk to. Students spoke to her in Twi and English, and she listened kindly She used jokes to make the lessons fun. She helped parents by sharing how their children were doing and dealt with it in a calm but serious way. The teacher spoke to the student quietly on their own, explained that using bad language is not acceptable and gave a consequence that followed the school rules.

ACTIVITY 10.3.3 Lesson Closure and Assessment

Record two key points (one each from end of lesson and one on assessment) you have learned on activity 3.3 and make use of it in your pedagogy lessons.

End of lesson - Giving students time to reflect. When you gives students time to reflects it helps them to understand and remember lessons. It also shows the teacher what needs clearer explanation.

Assesment - Checking understanding during the lesson helps students learn better. Asking quick questions shows if they understand before you move on.

Record any 'critical' incident you might have observed during lesson closure and assessment.

In one lesson i observed, my mentor did not finish the lesson on time. There was no proper ending and students were still busy when the next teacher arrived. This made the next lesson start late and caused confusion.

Also, the teacher gave students an assesment task at very end of the lesson. Because there was not enough time, students rushed through it and didn't do their best. Some didn't even finish it.

and giving advice. At break, she shared her teaching materials and answered parents' questions. She made her own learning tools and cared about both schoolwork and students personal lives. This made everyone trust and respect her.

List and compare with your STS partner, new relationships you might have observed that are not found on your checklist.

Friendly bond with learners - I noticed students shared personal issues with the teacher whiles my STS partner noticed how she gave students teacherchip-roles in class.
Link with school head - I noticed she gave ideas to improve timetable whiles my STS partner noticed how she help organize school events.

What have you learned from your STS partner?

I learned from my STS partner how to manage the classroom calmly and confidently. She built strong relationships by being patient, respectful. Her lessons were clear and well-paced, so students stayed engaged and understood. Watching her taught me to stay organized and flexible and inspire me to use her strategies.

ACTIVITY 10.4.3

SRJ task: Observation of record keeping by the mentor

After the use of the checklist to observe record keeping by the mentor, list the documents you might have observed that are not found in your checklist.

1. Behaviour Incidents Reports
2. Parental Communication Log
3. Duty and Supervision Rota
4. Consent and ~~Supervision Rot~~ Permission Slips
