TOPIC 10.5: Undertaking child study, focusing on children's learning and progress

Day of visit Tuesday

Date of visit 15th July 2025

ACTIVITY 10.5.1

SRJ task: Observation of how socio-economic, cultural and linguistic backgrounds influence the way learners (a boy and a girl) learn.

Name the two children (a boy and a girl) you have identified indicating the following information clearly.

Name of learner	Occupation of parents	Language (s) spoken	Where parents live
	TRADER	TWI, ENGLISH	KASOA OTAYIENS
	MASON	FANTE, ENGLISH	KASOA AKHELEY

Indicate any learning needs identified

Limited access to learning resources
Language support
Literacy and numeracy support

How do these learning needs affect the way they learn?

I saw that when learners don't have enough resources, language support or strong literacy and numeracy skills, they struggle to keep up in class. This affects their confidence and slows their progress.

ACTIVITY 10.5.2

SRJ Task: Observation of how mentor delivers lessons to support the diverse needs of learners.

Record three strategies your mentor adopted to support diverse learners in class.

Code-switching:- Using both English and the local language to explain lessons.

Group work

Teaching and learning materials: Using charts, objects and examples to make lessons clear.

Record what you would do differently to help diverse learners if you had the opportunity to teach them.

If I had the opportunity to teach, I would give more individual support to my students who struggle, use simple language and examples they can relate to, and create activities that engage both fast and slow learners.

ACTIVITY 10.5.3

SRJ Task: observation of the performance and progress of learners

State two things you observed your mentor do that helped the two learners most.

1. My mentor used code-switching and everyday examples so Lucy and Emmanuel could relate to the lesson she is teaching.
2. My mentor used charts, pictures and objects to make ideas easier to see and remember.

If you were the mentor, what else would you have done to help the two identified learners participate fully in the learning activities?

I would give short, focused one-on-one help during activities to my learners. Also, i would mixed ability pairs and rotate partners so weaker learners get support.

What would you do differently if given the chance to play the role of your mentor?*

I would give immediate feedback and praise to correct mistakes and boost my students confidence.

Topic 10.6: Discussion of teaching philosophy and building portfolio

Day of visit Friday

Date of visit 18th July 2025

Activity 10.6.1

SRJ Task: Discussion of individual's beliefs and values of teaching and learning.

Record what you have learnt from the sharing of beliefs and values of teaching and learning.

I learned that teaching should be learner-centred and consider learner-centred and consider learners' needs and backgrounds. I also learned the importance of inclusion and using different strategies so all children can take part. Setting high expectations with support helps learners gain confidence. Continous assesment and reflection improve teaching and learning. Lastly, working with parents, the community and growing as a teacher support learners' progress.

Record your first philosophy statement taking a cue from the discussions you have had with your mentor and STS partner on beliefs and values in teaching and learning.

I believe teaching is about helping every child to learn. I will use simple methods so all learners can understand. I will encourage and support them to do their best and become confident. I also believe learning should be active and connected to real life. As an aspiring teacher, I will keep learning and improving to help my learners better.

Activity 10.6.2

SRJ Task: Collection of artefacts, including the use of ICT tools for building a professional portfolio.

Make a list of artefacts that can be used to build a teaching portfolio.

Lesson plans and teaching materials
Observation notes and reflections
Photos or videos of classroom activities
Assessment records
Certificates and feedback from mentor/supervisor.
ICT Tools (Power Point slides, digital resources, audio - visuals)

Record the relevance of the artefacts collected from the STS school to teaching and learning.

The artefacts I collected are important because its helped me see how teaching and learning take place. Lesson plans the teacher in teaching and learners work shows their progress. ICT tools, photos and materials make lessons more interesting and easy to understand. Observation notes and reflections help me to improve as an aspiring teacher.
